ODDS BOARD

Prices from BetMGM and Caesars, with Pinnacle's raw and no-vig fair line. Green prices are the sharp fair reference.

EDGE METER

Best Nevada price vs Pinnacle fair. A play needs +4% or better; red means the book is charging more than fair.

MODEL BARS

Model-only projections that never see a line. They add context and are not triggers by themselves.

HOW WE SEE IT PLAYING OUT

The model projects roughly Grizzlies 117, Kings 110: the Grizzlies by about 6.9 in a game totaling about 226.7, against a market of Grizzlies -8.5 and 229.5. That works out to about a 70% win chance for the Grizzlies and 30% for the Kings.

Rest: about even (both teams on similar rest).

Injuries: SAC is without Keegan Murray (F), Maxime Raynaud (C), Dylan Cardwell (C), which could shift usage and minutes to the rest of the rotation. MEM lists Quinten Post (C), Ty Jerome (G), Scotty Pippen Jr. (G) as questionable.

Matchups (team level, ESPN): SAC averages 110.2 pts/g vs the MEM defense allowing 106.2. MEM averages 118.2 pts/g vs the SAC defense allowing 126.8.

These are model estimates, not guarantees; lines and injuries can change before tip-off.

WHY WE PLAYED IT

News	Ty Jerome, Scotty Pippen Jr. and Quinten Post were reported OUT for Memphis about 4:20 PM PT, which frees up shots and minutes.
Sharp move	Pinnacle Boozer Over 16.5 moved -101 to -141 (no-vig Over 54.6%). Jaylen Wells points also steamed. FanDuel, DraftKings and Caesars moved Boozer to 17.5.
Vs Pinnacle no-vig	BetMGM still had Over 15.5 at -130. From the Pinnacle 16.5 market, Over 15.5 (landing on 16 counts) is about 60%, so about +7% vs Pinnacle no-vig. That clears the +4% bar.
Model	The NBA props model projected 18.3 points (Oct 29 run, before the injury news).
Price limit	Bet at -135 or better.
