HOW WE SEE IT PLAYING OUT

The model projects about Ravens 23, Bills 30 (total 53.5).

Injuries: BAL is without Olaivavega Ioane (G), Jaylinn Hawkins (S), which could weaken the interior line. BAL lists T.J. Tampa (CB) as questionable; an absence could thin the secondary against the opposing receivers. BUF lists Dalton Kincaid (TE), Spencer Brown (OT), Dee Alford (CB) as questionable; an absence can shift short-area targets to the other pass catchers.

Matchups: BUF offense: Josh Allen faces a BAL pass D allowing 242 QB pass yds/g (14th-most allowed); top target Khalil Shakir (51 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 178 yds/g to WRs (5th-most allowed); James Cook (101 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 103 rush yds/g (13th-fewest allowed); its QBs take 1.9 sacks/g vs a BAL rush getting 2.1/g. BAL offense: Tyler Huntley faces a BUF pass D allowing 269 QB pass yds/g (3rd-most allowed); top target Zay Flowers (87 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 154 yds/g to WRs (9th-most allowed); Derrick Henry (79 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 97 rush yds/g (10th-fewest allowed); its QBs take 2.6 sacks/g vs a BUF rush getting 2.1/g. (nflverse season stats; ESPN depth chart for starters.)

These are model estimates, not guarantees; lines and injuries can change before kickoff.

OFFICIAL PLAY

	Bet	Price at post	Stake	Result
GAP PLAY	Pittsburgh Steelers -3.5	-108 (BetMGM, posted Fri 10/30)	1u	WON

WHY WE PLAYED IT

Model vs line	Model PIT -7.8 vs the book -3.5: a 4.3-point gap to the Steelers side.
Rule it fits	NFL spread gap 4-5 points at the opener. Walk-forward backtest (NFL spreads vs opener, 2010-26): +12.7% ROI on 399 bets in this bucket; full gap rule +9.0% on 985. Rated 2 of 3 stars.
Model win prob	62.8% to cover at -3.5 (model edge +20.9% at -108).
Vs Pinnacle no-vig	Pinnacle was also -3.5 (-101), about 50/50 no-vig, so this was not a +4% price edge vs Pinnacle. It was a model-gap play, and the gap rule is the edge we track.
Timing	Bet early: the backtest edge came from betting the opener and the line moving toward the model. The same rule at the close lost in 2025.
Model inputs	Offense EPA (recent form): PIT -0.027 vs CLE -0.115 per play. Both teams 5-2 (.714). Equal rest; CLE travel 114 miles.
Close	Pinnacle closed -3.5 (-107), so the price moved slightly against us (CLV -2.8%).

HOW WE SEE IT PLAYING OUT

The model projects about Falcons 21, Buccaneers 24 (total 45.0).

Injuries: ATL is without Billy Bowman Jr. (CB), Anterio Thompson (DT), Divine Deablo (LB), which could thin the secondary against the opposing receivers. TB is without Emeka Egbuka (WR), which can shift targets to the other receivers. TB lists Kenny Gainwell (RB), Luke Goedeke (OT) as questionable; an absence can shift carries to the backup backs.

Matchups: TB offense: Baker Mayfield faces a ATL pass D allowing 238 QB pass yds/g (16th-fewest allowed); top target Chris Godwin Jr. (30 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 149 yds/g to WRs (15th-most allowed); Bucky Irving (91 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 118 rush yds/g (15th-most allowed); its QBs take 2.9 sacks/g vs a ATL rush getting 2.2/g. ATL offense: Michael Penix Jr. faces a TB pass D allowing 220 QB pass yds/g (9th-fewest allowed); top target Drake London (78 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 131 yds/g to WRs (11th-fewest allowed); Bijan Robinson (98 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 80 rush yds/g (2nd-fewest allowed); its QBs take 2.0 sacks/g vs a TB rush getting 2.0/g. (nflverse season stats; ESPN depth chart for starters.)

HOW WE SEE IT PLAYING OUT

The model projects about Eagles 22, Commanders 24 (total 45.5).

Injuries: PHI is without Britain Covey (WR), Dontayvion Wicks (WR), DeVonta Smith (WR), which can shift targets to the other receivers. WSH is without Daron Payne (DT), Javon Kinlaw (DT), which could soften the run defense up front. WSH lists Treylon Burks (WR), John Bates (TE) as questionable; an absence can shift targets to the other receivers.

Matchups: WAS offense: Jayden Daniels faces a PHI pass D allowing 244 QB pass yds/g (12th-most allowed); top target Stefon Diggs (42 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 183 yds/g to WRs (4th-most allowed); Jacory Croskey-Merritt (48 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 132 rush yds/g (5th-most allowed); its QBs take 2.3 sacks/g vs a PHI rush getting 1.2/g. PHI offense: Tanner McKee faces a WAS pass D allowing 258 QB pass yds/g (7th-most allowed); top target Makai Lemon (31 rec yds/g) draws a defense allowing 149 yds/g to WRs (14th-most allowed); Saquon Barkley (46 rush yds/g) runs into a front allowing 99 rush yds/g (12th-fewest allowed); its QBs take 2.9 sacks/g vs a WAS rush getting 2.3/g. (nflverse season stats; ESPN depth chart for starters.)

These are model estimates, not guarantees; lines and injuries can change before kickoff.

DATA NOTES · sources and caveats

- STN (Station Casinos) lines: not available; not in the Odds API and no public odds page.
- Models: projections are model-only (no market line as input, per the closing-line-as-reference rule). None of the NBA/NHL/NCAAF/NCAAB side or total models has a certified walk-forward edge, so projections are context, not triggers.
- Injuries: ESPN feed at build time; statuses change, recheck before tip/puck drop.
- NHL goalies: season leaders from NHL.com plus the model's projected starters; starters are confirmed only near game time.
